DETAILED ACTION

This is in response to Request for Continuing Examination, RCE. There are no new Remarks on the file and therefore, the office action mailed on June 28, 2004 still applies, (repeated below for applicants convenience).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

Claims 1-13, and 15-48 are rejected under 35 USC §103(a). This rejection is set forth in the prior Office action mailed on October 17, 2003.

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments filed on April 15, 2004, with the Remarks of March 22, 2004 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicants argue that Nagarajan et al. teach away from the use of the aromatic containing polymers since they teach that the polymers having non-aromatic groups perform better than the polymers having aromatic groups. This is unconvincing; because that does not teach that the polymers containing aromatic groups would not work, just that the other is a preferred embodiment. Note that it has been held that obviousness may exist although teachings relied upon may be disclosed in the art as non-preferred or unsatisfactory for the intended purpose. In re Boe, 53 CCPA 1079; 355 F2d 961; 158 USPQ 507. In re Smith, 32 CCPA 959; 148 F2d 351; 65 USPQ 157. In re Nehrenberg, 47 CCPA 1159; 280 F2d 161; 126 USPQ 383. In re Watanabe, 50 CCPA 1175; 315 F2d 924; 137 USPQ 350. Note also that the same/similar polymers are disclosed by Takeda et al., US Patent No. 4,929,655, (attached), and they teach that those polymers are used in the papermaking operations as flocculants, drainage/retention agents, see column 1, lines 10-16.

In response to applicant's argument that the examiner's conclusion of obviousness is based upon improper hindsight reasoning, it must be recognized that any judgment on obviousness is in a sense necessarily a reconstruction based upon hindsight reasoning. But so long as it takes into account only knowledge which was within the level of ordinary skill at the time the claimed invention was made, and does not include knowledge gleaned only from the applicant's disclosure, such a reconstruction is proper. See In re McLaughlin, 443 F.2d 1392, 170 USPQ 209 (CCPA 1971).

Conclusion

4. This is a Request for Continuing Examination of applicant's earlier Application No. 09/691,962. All claims are drawn to the same invention claimed in the earlier application and could have been finally rejected on the grounds and art of record in the next Office action if they had been entered in the earlier application. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL even though it is a first action in this case. See MPEP § 706.07(b). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no, however, event will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
